

How I KEPT MY DAY JOB AND Became a PUBLISHED AUTHOR

—AND You Can, Too!

A Program by KEIR GRAFF

Keir Graff knows what it's like to get a bad review—and what it's like to give one. In this lighthearted and informative talk, Graff tells his own story of breaking into print. He will offer practical advice about getting published, starting with the question every writer needs to ask: "Will getting published make me happy?" His unique perspective on publishing has been earned through years of hard work, serendipity, and sometimes painful trial and error.

The author of The Price of Liberty and three other novels will make his debut as a children's author next year with The Other Felix. He's also senior editor of Booklist Online, the website of the American Library Association's book-review journal, Booklist.

Of interest to prospective authors, fans of thrillers and political fiction, and all who enjoy the world of books.

* 2 LOCATIONS

Harold Washington Library Center

Video Theater, Lower Level
400 S. State Street 60605
(312) 747-4700

Wednesday, September 22, 2010

Noon

Sulzer Regional Library

Auditorium
4455 N. Lincoln Avenue 60625
(312) 744-7616, extension 2

Wednesday, September 29, 2010

7:00 PM

City of Chicago
Richard M. Daley
Mayor

Chicago
Public
Library

